

SCIENCE AND CERAMICS

Recent developments in analysis and interpretation
A one-day meeting of the Medieval Pottery Research Group
at the British Geological Survey, Kingsley Dunham
Centre, Keyworth, Nottingham

Saturday, 6th of June 2009

- | | | |
|--------------|--|--------------------------------------|
| 10.00 | Welcome and introduction to the BGS | Simon Chenery |
| 10.20 | Microanalysis of later prehistoric and early medieval granodiorite-tempered pottery from the East Midlands | Edward Faber and David Knight |
| 10.40 | Recent projects on ICP analysis of medieval and later ceramics | Michael Hughes |
| 11.00 | Coffee | |
| 11.20 | Unravelling 17 th and 18 th -century slipwares: a scientific approach | Andrew Watts |
| 11.40 | Tobacco pipes and pipe clays: a review of 25 years research | Peter Davey |
| 12.00 | Understanding and interpreting the medieval pottery from Gásir, Northern Iceland | Torbjorn Brorsson |
| 12.30 | MPRG AGM | |
| 1.00 | Lunch, provided | |
| 2.00 | Luminescence dating of bricks | Ian Bailiff |
| 2.20 | Scientific dating of carbonised residues on ceramics from England, Scotland and Norway | Derek Hall |
| 2.40 | Reconstructing foodways from ancient residues in Roman pottery | Lucy Cramp |
| 3.00 | Fragmentation in action | Imogen Wood |
| 3.20 | Discussion and close | |
| 3.30 | Tea and a tour of the laboratories of the British Geological Survey | |

Directions to the venue are at <http://www.bgs.ac.uk/contacts/sites/keyworth/kwhome.html>

Conference fee £40, concessions £30. Lunch is included.

Overseas participants are welcome to register now and wait to pay in sterling on the day.

Send the tear-off slip and cheques payable to 'Medieval Pottery Research Group' to:
D.H. Brown, MPRG, 13, Southcliff Road, Southampton, SO14 6GB; duncan@potboiler.fsnet.co.uk

.....
I wish to enrol for 'Science and Ceramics' and enclose a cheque for £...../ will pay at the door

Name.....

Address / e-mail/telephone.....
.....

Please tick here if you require a receipt ()