

Continued Professional Training for Ceramic Archaeologists

Booking Form

Please place a cross in the box to the left of each course you would like to attend. The cost of each two-day course is £50. This includes refreshments and a light lunch. All delegates must make their own arrangements for accommodation. Tutors will arrange a group meal (cheap and cheerful) on the evening of the first day of each course. It is hoped everyone will attend but the cost of this is not included in the course fee. Due to the small number of places allocated for each course (12), courses could be cancelled if delegates pulled out at the last minute. To prevent this no money will be refunded if you cancel less than one month before the start of each course.
